

The Women's Rakaia Scrub Top features a crossover V-neck mock front with subtle contrast detailing for a modern, professional look. It includes two hip pockets with concealed contrast accents, side splits for ease of movement, and an adjustable drawstring at the back waist for a flattering fit. Made from high-performance NanoStretch fabric with graphene, it offers durability, breathability, and natural antimicrobial protection to keep you comfortable and fresh during long shifts. A soft rayon-spandex blend provides stretch, while recycled polyester supports a more sustainable choice.
